

Where's the fire?

- You feel guilty when you hear someone telling what they learned in their quiet time—and hope they don't ask how yours was.
- It doesn't seem like you're growing spiritually anymore.
- You want more depth.
- You read the Bible and pray because you should, not because you want to.
- You wonder where the joy went.

Does this sound familiar? SEE INSIDE!

