Dear Reader:

Do you share the articles and ideas you find in each issue of CHRISTIANITY TODAY? Do you find you want to discuss them with your friends and colleagues?

Now you can share all of CHRISTIANITY TODAY with your friends by giving it as a Christmas gift at 50% off the regular price!

A gift subscription to CHRISTIANITY TODAY is a thoughtful gift with a spiritual dimension — you'll be sharing some of the best minds in the evangelical world with your friends, pastor, family, or coworkers. And this year you can give two gift subscriptions to CHRISTIANITY TODAY for the price of one — just $12.47 each!

Each month CHRISTIANITY TODAY brings you thought-provoking articles and commentary that provide insight into the evangelical church and its role in today's world. Writers such as Philip Yancey, Charles Colson, J.I. Packer, Eugene Peterson, and Tim Stafford examine current events in the light of biblical teaching. Through the pages of CHRISTIANITY TODAY your friends will travel around the world each month as we cover history-making events and the people touched by them. We'll also explore how Christians are responding in different ways and with very different ministries to every aspect of our changing world.

This year you can give two gift subscriptions for the price of one to everyone on your Christmas gift list!

(over, please)

Celebrate
Christmas

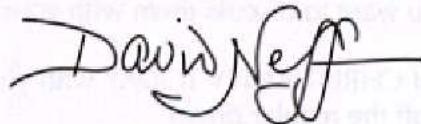

A gift order form is enclosed. Just write down the names and addresses of the families or individuals to whom you'd like to send gift subscriptions and return it to us in the enclosed postage-paid envelope. A single subscription costs $24.95, but when you order two or more, they're just $12.47 each!

When we receive your gift order, we'll send you a distinctive card for each order and you can use it to announce your gift.

There's no payment required now — we won't bill you until after the holidays, if you'd prefer. But please send us your order form by November 30 to insure gift card delivery before Christmas.

This is a limited offer to our current subscribers, so order your gifts today!

Sincerely,

David Neff
Executive Editor,
Christianity Today

P.S. Remember, you don't need to send payment now, but we must receive your Christmas gift order form by November 30 in order for your gift announcement cards to arrive in time for Christmas. This special 2-for-1 gift offer won't be around for long, so take advantage of it now! And while you're sharing CHRISTIANITY TODAY, why not give yourself a gift, too? Just check the "renewal" box on the order form, and we'll take care of the rest.
