Susan Nikaido, Editor

Our Purpose

The mission of Discipleship Journal is to help believers develop a deeper relationship with Jesus Christ, and to provide practical help in understanding the Scriptures and applying them to daily life and ministry.

How to Use Discipleship Journal

In your personal walk with the Lord

Discipleship Journal is written to encourage believers to grow in their spiritual lives. Don't try to read the entire issue in one sitting, but read an article at a time. Leave time for meditating and thinking about what you've read.

When combined with Bible reading, each article could form the basis for your personal devotions. Don't neglect articles that seem less interesting than others. They may be the very tool that God wants to use to bring you to a new level of awareness and spiritual growth.

In your ministry

The majority of DJ readers are very active in ministry. Many have found that DJ provides resources and suggestions that have enhanced their personal ministry. Teachers or pastors can use specific articles as the framework for their lesson and sermon notes. Appropriate articles can be passed on to people you are counseling, family members, co-workers, etc.

In addition to full-length articles on ministry, Discipleship Journal offers a six-page resource called DJ Plus that is packed full of practical ideas and tested resources for those involved in teaching, discipling, evangelism, missions, serving, and small groups.

In your small group

Discipleship Journal is unique among Christian publications for its emphasis on small groups. Each issue contains a Leader's Guide that helps the reader use DJ articles in home groups, adult Sunday classes, workplace Bible studies, or youth groups. And at least half of each DJ Plus is dedicated to small-group ministry.

As a resource

Discipleship Journal is written as a timeless resource. The information can be effectively used year after year. Save your copies of DJ for future referral. The last issue of each year contains a topical index of that year's articles.

Back issues are still available for many issues from #78 onward. See the last page of this directory for more information.

Special Features and Departments

Look for the following special features and departments:

- Special Section — A unique feature of DJ is that about a third of every issue is devoted to a single theme. This allows for an in-depth look at a topic of vital importance to your Christian walk.
- On Your Own Sections — Many articles end with a short Bible study or set of questions to help you apply what you're reading. These sections can be done individually or used in a group discussion.
- Special Departments — Each issue also features special departments such as Currents (quotes and statistics), On The Home Front (biblical encouragement for family life), Classics (time-tested excerpts from saints of old), and Bible Study Methods.

Who We Are

Discipleship Journal is a publication of NavPress, the publishing ministry of The Navigators. The Navigators is an international Christian organization dedicated to reaching, discipling, and equipping people to know Christ and to make Him known through successive generations.
