Renew now at our low discount rates.
Don't miss any of our important upcoming issues.

Dear Reader of CHRISTIANITY TODAY,

Unless your renewal instructions crossed this letter in the mail, we have not yet received your approval to continue sending you CHRISTIANITY TODAY.

I can still offer you the low renewal rate on your order form. However, to keep from missing an issue of CHRISTIANITY TODAY, we must receive your renewal in the next few days.

In these fast-paced, changing times, you need to know what's going on in the world around you. CHRISTIANITY TODAY can continue to provide you with a Christian perspective on current events, applying biblical truths to contemporary problems.

Our editors strive to give you the whole story behind every important event, details and background, so you can think biblically and realistically about the issues Christians face today.

But, we need to hear from you now to continue sending you CHRISTIANITY TODAY.

Please take a moment right now to (1) check the information on the enclosed renewal order form, (2) mark the savings and term you prefer, and (3) mail your form to us in the enclosed envelope.

Enclosing payment with your order is not necessary, unless you prefer. We are more than happy to invoice you later if that would be more convenient.

I look forward to hearing from you soon.

Sincerely,

Terumi E. Echols
